DIAMAS

COPYRIGHT AND LICENSES
in Diamond Open Access publishing

What information to display, where and how : a short guide for journal publishers.

Copyright owner

- Author instructions
- Dedicated copyright and/or Open Access pages
- Publishing contracts/agreements (if applicable)
- Open Policy Finder + Directory of Open Access Journals databases
- Full text of the work/paper.
- Metadata description of the work

Licensing policies

- Author instructions
- Dedicated copyright or Open Access pages
- Publishing contracts or agreements (if applicable)
- Open Policy Finder and Directory of OA Journals databases
- Journal pages of the publishing service's platform

Licenses

In all formats of the articles (e.g. PDF, HTML) :
- Name of the license
- License icon. e.g. the CC logos
- Hyperlinks to the full legal text of the licence. e.g. "This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License."
- Short descriptive text in the article. e.g. "You are free to share and adapt this work, but you must give appropriate credit and distribute your contributions under the same license"

In the metadata description in the article :
- Name of the license
- URL to the licence text
- In the metadata submitted when registering article persistent identifiers (DOI, ARK, URN, etc.)

Guidelines for third-party copyright

Requirements for authors:
- Obtain necessary permissions
- Properly cite all third-party content
- Include separate license information if needed

General best practices

- Clarity is key : write precise and easy-to-read content.
- Machines matter : ensure accurate and properly formatted metadata.
- One policy, all platforms : maintain consistent policies across journals and platforms.
- Legal harmony : copyright and licensing should not contradict each other.
- Stay up-to-date: regularly review and update policies.